

Bauman Achieves Associate Status

Davis, Bowen & Friedel, Inc. (DBF) is pleased to announce the addition of a new Associate to the firm's architectural department in Milford: Michael P. Bauman, AIA.

As a project manager licensed in Delaware, Bauman began his architecture career with DBF in 2002 by serving as an intern while attending the architecture program at Virginia Tech. Upon graduation in 2005 Michael joined the firm full time and has been a key contributor to the growth of the architectural department in the Milford Office. He has served as project architect for numerous Delaware agencies on projects throughout the state including the Delaware Army National Guard, Department of Health and Social Services, and Department of Services for Children, Youth and Their Families. Bauman also recently completed several successful design-build projects with Bering Straits and Bancroft Construction at Dover Air Force Base (DAFB). While continuing to work on project at DAFB, Michael is also working with Bering Straits at Aberdeen Proving Ground and the Army Research Lab in Adelphi, Maryland.

"Mike has refined his skills and architectural knowledge over the years and we couldn't be more excited to recognize his hard work and dedication with this promotion," shared DBF Principal Mike Wheedleton, AIA.
